Pantheon Introduces “In Conversation” GP Video Series

- Watch our Conversation with Philippe Botteri of Accel

We are delighted to introduce the first in a new video series filmed with a selection of leading, European-based GPs. Today, we unveil our conversation with Accel, an established venture capital investor, started in Palo Alto, California in 1983, and based in London since 2001, which backs European technology companies from inception through the growth stage, focusing on Series A and Series B funding.

Francesco di Valmarana, Partner in Pantheon’s European Investment Team, talks to Accel’s Philippe Botteri, about investing in European Artificial Intelligence, the challenges and opportunities for scaling European technology businesses, and the potential impacts of Brexit.

“When you’re in markets that are exploding, such as cloud computing, mobile and AI – trends that will last a decade or more – overall the impact of Brexit will be minor. Sure, some of the impacts will add certain friction that may reduce the pace of explosion, but it’s still an explosion,” says Philippe Botteri.
